NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

To be sold for cash at a Trustee's Sale on May 2, 2025, at 2:00 PM at the Valley County Courthouse, 501 Court Square, Glasgow MT 59230, the following described real property situated in Valley County, State of Montana:

Unit 242C of the St. Marie Condominium located in the N1/2 of Section 32 and the N1/2 of Section 33, Township 31 North, Range 40 East, MPM, together with the appurtenant common elements as said common elements are defined and established by the Declaration of St. Marie Condominium Recorded September 20, 1988 at 3:30 P.M., recorded in Book 69 of MRE on Pages 551-623 and any and all amendments filed thereto.

More commonly known as 242 C Country Club Blvd, St Marie, MT 59231.

Shannon Green and Kyle Sallee, as Grantors, conveyed said real property to Valley County Abstract Company, as Trustee, to secure an obligation owed to First Community Bank, by Deed of Trust on December 16, 2019, and filed for record in the records of the County Clerk and Recorder in Valley County, State of Montana, on December 23, 2019 as Instrument No. 168857, of Official Records.

Jason J. Henderson is the Successor Trustee pursuant to a Substitution of Trustee recorded in the office of the Clerk and Recorder of Valley County, State of Montana, on December 4, 2024 as Instrument No. 185831, of Official Records.

The Beneficiary has declared a default in the terms of said Deed of Trust due to the Grantor(s) failure to make monthly payments beginning April 1, 2024, and each month subsequent, which monthly installments would have been applied on the principal and interest due on said obligation and other charges against the property or loan. By reason of said default, the Beneficiary has declared all sums owing on the obligation secured by said Trust Deed immediately due and payable. The total amount due on this obligation is the principal sum of $12,417.74, interest in the sum of $478.47, escrow advances of $2,177.95, and other amounts due and payable in the amount of $236.84 for a total amount owing of $15,311.00, plus accruing interest, late charges, and other fees and costs that may be incurred or advanced.

The Beneficiary anticipates, and may disburse, such amounts as may be required to preserve and protect the property and for real property taxes that may become due or delinquent, unless such amounts of taxes are paid by the Grantor. If such amounts are paid by the Beneficiary, the amounts or taxes will be added to the obligations secured by the Deed of Trust. Other expenses to be charged against the proceeds of this sale include the Trustee's fees and attorney's fees, costs and expenses of the sale, and late charges, if any.

The Beneficiary has elected, and has directed, the Trustee to sell the above described property to satisfy the obligation.

The sale is a public sale and any person, including the Beneficiary, excepting only the Trustee, may bid at the sale. The bid price must be paid immediately upon the close of bidding in cash or cash equivalents (valid money orders, certified checks or cashier's checks). The conveyance will be made by Trustee's Deed, without any representation or warranty, including warranty of title, express or implied, as the sale is made strictly on an as-is, where-is basis, without limitation, the sale is being made subject to all existing conditions, if any, of lead paint, mold or other environmental or health hazards. The sale purchaser shall be entitled to possession of the property on the 10th day following the sale.

The Grantor, successor in interest to the Grantor, or any other person having an interest in the property, has the right, at any time prior to the Trustee's Sale, to pay to the Beneficiary, or the successor in interest to the Beneficiary, the entire amount then due under the Deed of Trust and the obligation secured thereby (including costs and expenses actually incurred and attorney's fees) other than such portion of the principal as would not then be due had no default occurred and by curing any other default complained of herein that is capable of being cured by tendering the performance required under the obligation or to cure the default, by paying all costs and expenses actually incurred in enforcing the obligation and Deed of Trust with Successor Trustee's and attorney's fees. In the event that all defaults are cured, the foreclosure will be dismissed and the foreclosure sale will be canceled.

The scheduled Trustee's Sale may be postponed by public proclamation for up to 15 days for any reason. In the event of a bankruptcy filing, the sale may be postponed by the Trustee for up to 120 days by public proclamation at least every 30 days.

If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Successor Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse.

This is an attempt to collect a debt and any information obtained will be used for that purpose.

Dated this 19th day of December, 2024.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Financial Considerations When Changing Jobs

Edward Jones Financial Advisor
CFP® Arron Franzen
For the Courier
FINANCIAL FOCUS®

Are you changing jobs soon? If so, you'll obviously be interested in your new salary — but you'll also want to look at other financial considerations.

Here are some of the most important ones:

- 401(k) — If you had a 401(k) plan through your previous employer, you'll need to decide what to do with it once you've joined a new employer. You could just cash it out, but you'd pay taxes and possible penalties. You could leave your 401(k) with your previous employer, if allowed, and if you have been happy with your plan's performance. Or you could move your 401(k) into your new employer's plan, which might be a good choice if the new plan has lower fees and attractive investment options. You'd also want to ask whether the new employer offers matching contributions. Finally, you could roll over your old 401(k) into a traditional IRA, which would give you more investment choices.

- HSA/FSA — If your new employer offers a health savings account (HSA) as part of a high-deductible health plan, you may want to take advantage of it. Your contributions are made with pre-tax dollars, your earnings generally grow tax deferred and your withdrawals are tax free, as long as they're used for qualified medical expenses. Plus, you can carry unused funds through retirement, when you can still use them for qualified medical expenses. Your employer might also offer a flexible spending account (FSA), which can pay for a variety of health care costs, such as deductibles, co-payments and co-insurance. Generally, if you're contributing to an HSA, you can't fund an FSA in the same year, except for a limited purpose FSA.

- Waiting period for health benefits — You'll want to ask your new employer if there's a waiting eligibility period to enroll in its benefits plan — health insurance, dental, vision, and so on. If so, you may need to get COBRA coverage for a few months to stay in your old plan, unless you can be added to a spouse's plan. When you go on your new employer's health care plan, make sure you know what it covers. Depending on your situation, you might want to add supplemental health insurance.

- Life insurance — When you leave a job, your employer-sponsored life insurance will end, unless you have the option to convert your group term life policy into an individual permanent cash value policy. So, you'll want to be sure your new employer offers at least the same insurance coverage as your old one. But you should also determine whether the group policy offered by your employer is sufficient for your needs. Depending on several factors, such as your income, spouse's income and family size, you may need to supplement your employer's policy with an individual term life insurance policy.

- Other benefits — Review your new employer's benefits package carefully to see what's available. Many employers offer tuition reimbursement for their employees, and some even provide college planning assistance for employees' children. For example, your employer might offer matching contributions to a tax-advantaged 529 education saving plan, which can be used for college, some K-12 expenses and some trade/vocational school programs.

Changing jobs can provide you with an opportunity to expand your career, learn new skills and broaden your social network. And it can certainly be financially rewarding, too — so make sure you know all the benefits involved.

Hockey In Utah

Mary Honrud / For the Courier

I'm writing this while still in Utah, so by the time you read this, I'll be home again.

We were in Utah this past weekend to cheer on our youngest grandson (12) and his 12UA team. I'm not sure why they called it the Salt Lake City tourney (officially the Grizz Cup). Our first game was held in Cottonwood Heights, 17 miles from our hotel in downtown Salt Lake. That arena was warm enough we were able to sit (stand) and cheer comfortably without our heavy winter coats on. It was a close game, which our Gurf Coast Flames lost, 8-7.

The next game was in Park City, a jaunt of 34 miles. The ice rink was way up the mountain and had apparently been used for curling in the 2002 Olympics. All the rinks feature Olympic-sized sheets, which is much more ice surface than our kids are used to. Not only were they battling a team on their home rink, they were also battling altitude sickness. The Flames, from Florida, are used to being maybe 500' above sea level. The Park City rink sits at 6,890'! One of the team moms had bought some form of oxygen the kids could use on the bench. They sell it at the local Walmart. Even at that, they were struggling. While they played their hearts out, they ended up on the wrong side of the 5-2 final score.

Park City is one of those tourist-y ski towns. After the game, our daughter and grandson and us dined at one of the chi-chi steakhouses in downtown Park City. The food, while pricey by Montana standards, was excellent. It was a great experience for our grandson as we were able to watch people going up the mountain via the ski lift from our table. We also could see them gliding back down to the ski lift right beside us.

The third game was in Provo, another 34 mile jaunt, but in a different direction. The altitude there was only 4,551', so it wasn't as hard for the Florida team to breathe. The team is co-ed, with two great girls competing hard with the boys. The easier breathing resulted in a win, 4-3.

That win was crucial, as it put us in fourth place. So we had another game that same evening, to decide if we'd just go home or get to compete in the championship match. They'll be facing that same Park City team that bested us up the mountain. But we won't have to fight altitude sickness again, as this match will be in Murray, Utah, 10 miles away from the hotel. And Murray sits at 4,301' above sea level.

This is now much later: we're just back to the hotel from that semi-final game. They won, 2-1, in a squeaker. The winning goal was put in the net with only 46 seconds left on the clock. This team is peaking at the right time. We'd all (parents, grandparents, siblings, coaches) just hoped they'd play respectably. That Park City team had been winning this tournament for years, and we eliminated them from the competition.

So now we will be facing the first team that we lost to, on Monday morning (MLK Day), in yet another town. It's late Sunday night, and I don't have the energy or ambition to look up the town name nor the altitude, but our daughter says it's 25 minutes away. We'll get to play on ice that was actually used in the Olympics. You'll have to read next week's column to find out if we took the trophy or not.
